

Thursday Club Hosts Jazz Band at Luncheon

The La Cañada Thursday Club, which donated money last season to repair instruments for the Glendale High School jazz band, was recently treated to the excellent musical renderings of the jazz band. From Ray Charles to Van Morrison, club attendees were tapping their feet and swaying in their seats as they watched the students perform at the club's recent tea.

At last year's performance, philanthropy chair Sheri Morton presented the band with a generous $1,000 donation to help with their instruments.

Band director Amy Rangel commented: "We were able to use the donation to repair instruments over the summer. Every student was able to start the year with a clean/working instrument."

After the program, the band joined the club members for tea, sandwiches and cookies, and the members enjoyed getting to ask questions of the students and getting to know them personally.

Inaugural Event for Women of Dignity Health Takes Place

Dignity Health-Glendale Memorial Hospital and Health Center has announced an auxiliary group of the Glendale Memorial Health Foundation. The Women of Dignity Health-Glendale will host events throughout the year in an effort to raise awareness and funds for the hospital.

The inaugural luncheon was held recently in the hospital's John Stauffer Auditorium for more than 60 female leaders from the Glendale community and surrounding areas. Guests enjoyed a luncheon as well as an address by Kathy Rose, an author, artist and founder of Claiming Your Voice consulting.
